

Richard Roy

Richard has over 33 years in the rail industry. His experience is wide and varied and includes positions such as conductor, trainmaster, supervisor rules instruction, locomotive engineer and trainer. Richard also qualified and holds a trainer/facilitator certification with the Ontario Fire Marshalls Office. Since retirement from a class 1 railway in 2007, Richard has been training and developing training programs for the industrial railway segment, as well as working with the railway conductor training program which is provided through the college system.

Richard graduated from High School in the technical stream with honours. Numerous train the trainer programs and management upgrading programs were and are part of his railway career. During his time in the rail industry he had the privilege of working with Dr. Harold Stolovich from the University of Montreal, a world renowned expert in adult education. Richard is a volunteer fire fighter and continues to train those he serves within the fire service. A member of the united way campaign at work led to the establishment of an endowment with the Kenora and Lake of the Woods Regional Foundation for social welfare. Richard continues to serve with the foundation as a member of the board of directors and the grants committee. Fishing and boating take up a fair amount of Richard's free time.
