PUGET VENTURES INC.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE NINE MONTHS ENDED JANUARY 31, 2010 AND 2009

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

The Company is an exploration stage company incorporated under the Business Corporations Act of British Columbia on March 9, 2007, engaged in the exploration and development of mineral property interests. The Company began trading on the TSX Venture Exchange ("TSX-V") as a capital pool corporation on October 31, 2007 and completed its qualifying transaction on May 15, 2008 and now trades on the TSX Venture Exchange under the symbol "PVS".

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates that the Company will continue in operation for the foreseeable future and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business.

At January 31, 2010, the Company reported working capital of $2,132,896 (January 31, 2009 - $468,855). The Company has an accumulated deficit of $1,307,745 (January 31, 2009 - $649,403).

The ability of the Company to continue as a going concern and meet its commitments as they become due, including completion of the acquisition, exploration and development of its mineral properties, is dependent on the Company's ability to obtain the necessary financing. Management is planning to raise additional capital to finance operations and expected growth, if necessary, or alternatively to dispose of its interests in certain properties. The outcome of these matters cannot be predicted at this time. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing, management will be required to curtail the Company's operations.

The business of mining exploration involves a high degree of risk and there is no assurance that current exploration projects will result in future profitable mining operations. The Company has significant cash requirements to meet its administrative overhead, pay its liabilities, and maintain its mineral interests. The recoverability of amounts shown for mineral property interests is dependent on several factors. These include the discovery of economically recoverable reserves, the ability of the Company to obtain the necessary financing to complete the development of these properties, and future profitable production or proceeds from disposition of mineral properties. The carrying value of the Company's mineral property interests does not reflect current or future values.

These financial statements do not include any adjustments to the amounts and classifications of assets and liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue operations.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of Presentation

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and are stated in Canadian dollars, which is the Company's functional and reporting currency.

(b) Equipment

Equipment is recorded at cost. The Company provides for amortization using rates listed below to amortize the costs over their estimated lives:

Office equipment	5 years straight line
Computer equipment & software	3 years straight line

Additions during the year are amortized at one-half the annual rates.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

(c) Mineral Property Interests

The Company capitalizes all costs related to investments in mineral property interests on a property-by-property basis. Such costs include mineral property acquisition costs and exploration and development expenditures, net of any recoveries. Costs are deferred until such time as the extent of mineralization has been determined and mineral property interests are either developed or the Company's mineral rights are allowed to lapse.

All capitalized mineral property expenditures are reviewed, on a property-by-property basis, to consider whether there are any conditions that may indicate impairment. When the carrying value of a property exceeds its net recoverable amount (as estimated by quantifiable evidence of an economic geological resource or reserve, or by reference to option or joint venture expenditure commitments) or when, in the Company's assessment, it will be unable to sell the property interest for an amount greater than the deferred costs, provision is made for the impairment in value.

The amounts shown for acquisition costs and deferred exploration expenditures represent costs incurred to date and do not necessarily reflect present or future values. These costs will be depleted over the useful lives of the properties upon commencement of commercial production or written off if the property interests are abandoned or the claims allowed to lapse.

From time to time the Company may acquire or dispose of a mineral property interest pursuant to the terms of an option agreement. As the options are exercisable entirely at the discretion of the optionee, the amounts payable or receivable are not recorded. Option payments are recorded as property costs or recoveries when the payments are made or received. When the amount of recoveries exceeds the total amount of capitalized costs of the property, the amount in excess of costs is credited to income.

(d) Stock-based Compensation

The Company accounts for stock-based compensation using a fair value based method with respect to all stock-based payments to directors, employees and non-employees. For directors and employees, the fair value of the options is measured at the date of grant. For non-employees, the fair value of the options or warrants is measured on the earlier of the date at which the counterparty performance is complete or the date the performance commitment is reached or the date at which the equity instruments are granted if they are fully vested and non-forfeitable. For directors, employees and non-employees, the fair value of the options and warrants is accrued and charged to operations, with the offset credit to contributed surplus, over the vesting period. If and when the stock options and warrants are ultimately exercised, the applicable amounts of contributed surplus are transferred to share capital. The Company does not incorporate an estimated forfeiture rate for options that will not vest, but rather accounts for actual forfeitures as they occur.

(e) Asset Retirement Obligation ("ARO")

The Company recognizes an estimate of the liability associated with ARO in the financial statements at the time the liability is incurred. The estimated fair value of the ARO is recorded as a long-term liability, with a corresponding increase in the carrying amount of the related asset. The capitalized amount is depleted on a unit-of-production basis over the life of the proved reserves. The liability amount is increased each reporting period due to the passage of time and the amount of accretion is charged to earnings in the period. The ARO can also increase or decrease due to changes in the estimates of timing of cash flows or changes in the original estimated undiscounted cost. Actual costs incurred upon settlement of the ARO to the extent of the liability recorded are charged against the amount provided. Actual costs incurred in excess of the liability recorded are charged to operations in the period incurred. The Company assessed its mineral properties, and based upon such assessments, there were no known material ARO's as at January 31, 2010 or 2009.

(f) Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

Assets of the Company are reviewed annually or when changes in circumstances suggest their carrying value has become impaired. Management considers assets to be impaired if the carrying value exceeds the estimated undiscounted future cash flows expected to result from the use of the asset and its eventual disposition. If impairment is deemed to exist, the assets will be written down to fair value. Fair value is generally determined using a discounted cash flow analysis.

(g) Revenue Recognition

Interest income is accrued on a time-apportioned basis by reference to the carrying value using the effective interest method.

(h) Per Share Information

Basic earnings per share is calculated using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The Company uses the treasury stock method to compute the dilutive effect of options, warrants and similar instruments. Under this method the dilutive effect on earnings per share is calculated presuming the exercise of outstanding options, warrants and similar instruments. It assumes that the proceeds of such exercise would be used to repurchase common shares at the average market price during the period. However, the calculation of diluted loss per share excludes the effects of various conversions and exercise of options and warrants that would be anti-dilutive.

(i) Flow-through Shares

The resource expenditure deductions for income tax purposes related to exploratory and development activities funded by flow-through share arrangements are renounced to investors in accordance with tax legislation. The future income tax liability associated with the flow-through shares is recognized by the Company when tax credits are renounced. Capital stock is reduced and future income tax liability is increased by the tax related to the renounced tax deduction. Where available, the Company offsets future income tax liabilities with future income tax assets, by way of recognizing a future income tax recovery.

(j) Future Income Taxes

The Company follows the asset and liability method of accounting for future income taxes. Under this method, future tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax basis, and losses carried forward. Future tax assets and liabilities are measured using substantively enacted statutory rates that are expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on future tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in operations in the period the change is enacted or substantially assured. The amount of future income tax assets is limited to the amount of the benefit that is more likely than not to be realized.

(k) Capital Stock

Capital Stock issued for non-monetary consideration is recorded at fair market value pursuant to the agreement to issue shares as determined by the board of directors of the Company based on the trading price of the shares on the TSX-V.

(l) Warrants

Proceeds received on the issuance of units, consisting of common shares and warrants, are allocated first to common shares based on the market trading price of the common shares at the time the units are priced, and any excess is allocated to warrants.

(m) Financial Instruments

All financial assets and liabilities are recognized when the entity becomes a party to the contract creating the item. All financial instruments are classified as one of the following: held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, held-for-trading, available-for-sale or other financial liabilities. Financial assets and liabilities held-for-trading are measured at fair value with gains and losses recognized in net income. Financial assets held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, and other financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost. Available-for-sale financial instruments are measured at fair value with unrealized gains and losses recognized in other comprehensive income (loss) and reported in shareholders' equity. Any financial instrument may be designated as held-for-trading upon initial recognition. The Company has classified its financial instruments as follows:

Transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issuance of financial instruments that are classified as other than held-for-trading, which are expensed as incurred, are included in the initial carrying value of such instruments and amortized using the effective interest method.

(n) Changes in accounting policies

(i) Capital Disclosures

The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") Handbook Section 1535, "Capital Disclosures", requires the disclosure of both qualitative and quantitative information that provides users of financial statements with information to evaluate the entity's objectives, policies and procedures for managing capital. The new section has been adopted effective May 1, 2008. Note 12 provides further details.

(ii) Financial Instruments

CICA Handbook Section 3862, "Financial Instruments Disclosures", and Section 3863, "Financial Instruments Presentation" replaces the existing Section 3861, "Financial Instruments Disclosure and Presentation". Section 3862 provides users with information to evaluate the significance of the financial instruments of the entity's financial position and performance, nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments, and how the entity manages those risks. Section 3863 deals with the classification of financial instruments, related interests, dividends, losses and gains, and the circumstances in which financial assets and financial liabilities are offset. The new sections have been adopted effective May 1, 2008. Note 3 provides further details.

(iii) Going concern

The CICA amended Section 1400, "General Standards of Financial Statement Presentation", which requires management to assess an entity's ability to continue as a going concern. When management is aware of material uncertainties related to events or conditions that may cast doubt on an entity's ability to continue as a going concern, those uncertainties must be disclosed. In assessing the appropriateness of the going concern assumption, the standard requires management to consider all available information about the future, which is at least, but not limited to, twelve months from the balance sheet date. The adoption did not have a material impact on the financial statements for any of the periods presented. The new section has been adopted effective May 1, 2008.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

(o) Future Accounting Changes

International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS")

In 2006, the Canadian Accounting Standards Board ("AcSB") published a new strategic plan that will significantly affect financial reporting requirements for Canadian companies. The AcSB strategic plan outlines the convergence of Canadian generally accepted accounting principles with IFRS over an expected five year transitional period. In February 2008, the AcSB announced that 2011 is the changeover date for publicly-listed companies to use IFRS, replacing Canada's own GAAP. The date is for interim and annual financial statements relating to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2011. The changeover of May 1, 2011 will require the restatement for comparative purposes of amounts reported by the Company for the year ending April 30, 2011. While the Company has begun assessing the adoption of IFRS for 2011, the financial reporting impact of the transition to IFRS cannot be reasonably estimated at this time.

3. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Company classifies its cash and cash equivalents and term deposits as held-for-trading; and accounts payable and accrued liabilities as other financial liabilities.

The carrying value of cash and cash equivalents, term deposit, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair values due to the short-term maturity of these financial instruments. The Company's risk exposure and the impact on the Company's financial instruments are summarized below:

(a) Credit Risk

Concentration of credit risk exists with respect to the Company's cash and short-term investments as the majority of amounts are held at a single major Canadian financial institution.

The Company's concentration of credit risk and maximum exposure thereto is as follows:

	January 31, 2010	January 31, 2009
Cash	$ 358,830	$ 286,288
Term deposits	2,000,000	155,000
Accounts receivable	25,843	55,760
	$ 2,384,873	$ 497,048

The credit risk associated with cash and cash equivalents is minimized by ensuring that these financial assets are placed with major Canadian financial institutions with strong investment-grade ratings by a primary rating agency. Accounts receivable is GST recoverable from a government agency.

(b) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in obtaining funds to meet commitments. The Company manages its liquidity risk by forecasting cash flows from operations and anticipated investing and financing activities. The Company normally maintains sufficient cash and short-term investments to meet the Company's business requirements. At January 31, 2010, the Company had accounts payable and accrued liabilities of $262,174 (January 31, 2009 - $73,493).

3. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

(c) Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises three types of risk: interest rate risk, foreign currency risk and other price risk.

(i) Interest rate risk

The Company's cash and short-term investments consists of cash held in bank and trust accounts. At January 31, 2010 the Company holds a term deposit at 0.35% per annum with a primary Canadian financial institution.

(ii) Foreign currency risk

The Company is not exposed to significant foreign currency risk as it has not entered into any foreign currency transactions.

(iii) Other price risk

Other price risk is the risk that the fair market value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices, other than those arising from interest rate risk or foreign exchange risk. The Company is not exposed to significant other price risk.

4. TERM DEPOSIT

The following term deposit was held by the Company:

		January 31, 2010	January 31, 2009

(f) Title to Mineral Property Interests

Although the Company has taken steps to verify title to mineral properties in which it has an interest in accordance with industry standards for the current stage of exploration of such properties, these procedures do not guarantee the Company's title. Property title may be subject to unregistered prior agreements or transfers and title may be affected by undetected defects.

(g) Realization of Assets

The investment in and expenditures on mineral property interests comprise a significant portion of the Company's assets. Realization of the Company's investment in these assets is dependent upon the establishment of legal ownership, the obtaining of permits, the satisfaction of governmental requirements and the attainment of successful production from the properties or from the proceeds of their disposition.

Mineral exploration and development is highly speculative and involves inherent risks. While rewards, if a feasible ore body is discovered, might be substantial, few properties that are explored are ultimately developed into producing mines. There can be no assurance that the current exploration programs by the Company will result in the discovery of economically viable quantities of ore.

12. MANAGEMENT OF CAPITAL

The Company considers its capital to be all components of shareholders' equity. The Company's objective when managing capital is to safeguard its accumulated capital in order to provide an adequate return to shareholders by maintaining a sufficient level of funds, in order to support the acquisition, exploration and development of mineral properties. The Board of Directors does not establish quantitative return on capital criteria for management, but rather relies on the expertise of the Company's management to sustain future development of the business.

Capital requirements are driven by the Company's exploration activities on its mineral property interests. To effectively manage the Company's capital requirements, the Company has a planning and budgeting process in place setting out the expenditures required to meet its strategic goals. The Company compares actual expenses to budget on all exploration projects and overhead to manage costs, commitments and exploration activities.

As the Company is in the exploration stage, its operations have been funded by the issuance of common shares to investors in the past. The Company will continue these financing methods in the future depending upon market and economic conditions at the time.

The Company's capital is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements and its overall strategy remains unchanged from the prior period.
