Walk in Santiago's shoes to learn about his university life

My name is Santiago Melo. My wife and I came to Canada from Colombia, which is in South America. I am taking my first classes towards an Editorial Certificate at Ryerson University in Toronto, Canada.

I would like to become an editor and writer because my biggest passion in life is the written word. I believe that books are our highest form of expression and that they can't be rivaled by any other type of entertainment.

What I enjoy the most of going to school is the fact that it keeps my mind active. The biggest challenge I face is learning how to balance my daily routine with the homework and assignments I must complete.

The first step I am taking in my career as an editor is doing an internship at a publishing house. It is the best way to gain hands-on experience and become immersed in the publishing industry.

I was always taught that in order to become a successful person, you have to study. I believe that without a formal education there is very little you can do to improve the world that we live in.

“La educacion es la mejor manera de conocer el mundo - Education is the best way to learn about the world.” Keep studying! Santiago ©
